A Report on the Skill Enhancement program on Leadership and Problem Solving

27/02/21

Leadership qualities are essential in teamwork. The leadership trait is inborn in some students, while it is acquired by the rest. Either way a student with excellent technical knowledge and communication skills should possess the important quality of leading the subordinates working under his stewardship for solving problems. With this motto the department of mechanical engineering has organized a skill enhancement programme titled “ Leadership and Problem Solving”. The resource persons for the program , Dr. B Naga Raju and Dr. Sabarunissa Begum impressed upon the students on the significance of the leadership qualities in One’s career. They further said that the students have to participate actively in various activities that are held in the institution from time to time. They will have a positive impact on enhancing the leadership qualities and ability to work in teams
